Statement of Takeshi Hakamada, Founder & CEO of ispace, inc.

“Having been reappointed as CEO at this shareholders’ meeting, I am acutely aware of the weight of my responsibilities. In 2026, the space industry is experiencing a very strong forward momentum. In addition to the bold lunar landing mission policy announced by NASA at its Ignition event in March, concrete plans for lunar activities are also progressing in Japan through the Basic Plan on Space Policy and the Space Strategy Fund. As we enter an era of high-frequency lunar transportation infrastructure, our management team and employees will work together with a singular drive to create innovative value and achieve sustainable growth. We will move forward to meet the expectations of all our stakeholders, including our shareholders. We thank you and ask for your continued support.”
